Judge Robert D. Drain
Southern District of New York
One Bowling Green
New York, New York 10004-1408

Honorable Judge Drain:

I am writing you concerning the Delphi Automotive reorganization that you are currently presiding over. I retired from Delphi Automotive in May, 2002 from a 6th level salary position. Delphi was to continue my health care and life insurance except for the co-pays that I was expected to pay to maintain additional life insurance and other health care insurance features. I had 30 years with General Motors and the remainder with Delphi most of which was spent on salary. The entire time that I was employed I paid the required portions of my health care and life insurance with the understanding that it would continue when I retired. Delphi has requested to you that they have approval to eliminate health and life insurance coverage for current and future retirees. I feel that Delphi should be made to honor their and General Motors commitments to the salary employees and retirees. Delphi is using chapter 11 bankruptcy only for their U.S. operations and not for their world-wide operations. Delphi continues to spend money sponsoring NASCAR and open-wheel racing teams and I feel that they should be ordered to maintain their commitments to their retirees. The retirees are in an impossible position because of age and in many cases health conditions to be able to purchase health and life insurance and Delphi has not made an attempt to try to find group health and life insurance that the retirees could purchase.

Enclosed is a copy of The Columbus Ohio Dispatch USA Weekend dated February 6, 2009 that shows Delphi still a sponsor of NASCAR racing. I feel that if Delphi is using chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy laws to reorganize that they should be made to maintain their commitments to their retirees on a world-wide basis.

Thank you for your consideration.

Fox with his offscreen wife, actress Tracy Pollan

Q Please give us a medical update on Michael J. Fox.

J. LESHNER, Green Valley, Ariz.

We were pleased to hear from his latest co-star, Rescue Me's Andrea Roth, that Fox had no difficulty acting in his four-episode arc, to be seen in April on FX. "He's an inspiration," says Roth, whose character Janet will be dating Fox's wheelchair-bound character Dwight. "At times, it [Parkinson's] takes him over more or less ... but he was great," she tells us. "We have a scene where he's doing some physical things, and he's hysterical, doing his ad-libbing." Fox, 47, recently told People that "based on how I feel now, I'll be OK for at least 10 more years."

AMICK

Q Is Madchen Amick married? To whom?

KAYCEE STEVENS, Texas City, Texas

Yes. The former Twin Peaks player seen on three TV series this season has been married to David Alexis, a football and track coach, since 1995. "I think I found the world's most amazing man," says Amick, 38. They have two kids, whom she tells us are track stars.

➔ "It's in my contract," says the very honest Annie Lennox when we ask why she chose to do a retrospective CD now, her first as a solo artist. "But, why not?" On Tuesday she releases The Annie Lennox Collection. "I feel I made a body of work that is lasting," says the mother of two teenage daughters. "When you hear it, you say, 'That's Annie Lennox.'" But don't expect a tour to follow. "I always resist," says Lennox, 54. "It's exhausting."

Hoda's name shows ancestry

Q Hoda Kotb is the most refreshing addition to the NBC Today show. I'm curious about her name.

EDWARD LAUTH
Syosset, N.Y.

Kotb, 44, was born in Oklahoma, but both of her parents were born in Egypt. She says her name is so common there, it is like being named Jane in the United States. Hoda, originally spelled Choda until it was changed for TV, is said to mean "guidance" in Arabic.

➔ Gary Sinise appreciates the "security and stability" that CSI: NY gives him: "It allows me to do wonderful things in my life." Professionally, that included getting his 1997 award-winning miniseries, George Wallace, released on DVD about two weeks ago; it languished after director John Frankenheimer's 2002 death. Off-camera, Sinise, 53, a married father of three, tours with his Lt. Dan Band. He'll be at the Reed Army Medical Center in Washington later this month. "It seems a good somebody like me to let [the troops] they're not forgotten, and they're remembered," says Sinise, who was awarded the Presidential Citizens Medal in December. That 13 family members watched the medal in the White House Oval Office.

Q Is Caroline Kennedy still married to Edwin Schlossberg? It seems she used his name through the years, but as a candidate for U.S. Senate would go by Kennedy.

SHIRLEY SCHEMMEL
Mesa, Ariz.

She was referred to in the press as Caroline Kennedy Schlossberg or Caroline Kennedy particularly in the years right after her marriage. But she says she never used her name, and she used Kennedy occasionally. Maybe her children call her Mrs. Schlossberg. I hear her friends call me Mrs. M.

➔ While an editor at a women's magazine, Hillary Black found that would write about almost anything but her relationship with men and money. "Their plastic surgery, but not money," says Black, who edited The Secret Currency of Love, in 1998. Then, Black broke up with a wealthy man. Her covered friends were less supportive than expected because the man had money. Ta-da! A book idea was born. The Secret Currency of Love is essays focused on the relationship between women, money and men. Says Black, "Money shapes character. It transforms relationships."
